

Learning to Make Decisions and Get Clarity...

If you're deciding whether an opportunity is right for you, I encourage you to ask yourself the questions below.

If you're still not clear, please take the opportunity to connect one-on-one with a me. I'll be happy to help you get clear on your no or yes.

1. On a scale of 1-10, if there were nothing to stop you, how strongly do you desire to take this next step?

(1 - not so much, 10 - I feel a strong desire to make this happen, I know it will change my life/business)

1 ----- 2 ----- 3 ----- 4 ----- 5 ----- 6 ----- 7 ----- 8 ----- 9 ----- 10

(Tip: If you're a 5 or lower, then this opportunity not for you! I would recommend you do some soul searching on WHY you want to take the next step—get clear on that first.)

2. If you're between a 6-9, why? What would have to be true, for your desire to move to a 10?

3. What would make this opportunity worth the investment for you?

Now, determine the pros and cons of committing to yourself, by investing in this opportunity.

Potential Risk of Doing This	Potential Benefit and Payoff of Doing This
Potential Risk of Not Doing This	Potential Benefit and Payoff of Not Doing This

After reviewing the pros and cons, let's revisit the scale again. On a scale of 1-10, how strongly do you desire to take next step of this opportunity?

When you are a 9 or 10 and this opportunity feels right for you, then jump in and work diligently, and let's get started in transforming your business and your life!
